Welcome Address by Dr. Ravi.K. Dhar, Director, JIMS VasantKunj

Prof. Ravi K Dhar, Director, JIMS Vasant Kunj welcomed the virtual gathering by expounding the need to understand the concept of Gender Construction. He mentioned interesting and relevant factoids. Dr. Dhar opined that we suffer from historical amnesia and that our cultural ethos has been hijacked by the west. He emphasized the need to reconfigure ourselves appropriately. He exhorted the students present to understand, imbibe and finally implement the advice being given to them.

Dr. SushreePanigrahi, Senior Fellow, Rajiv Gandhi Institute for Contemporary Studies

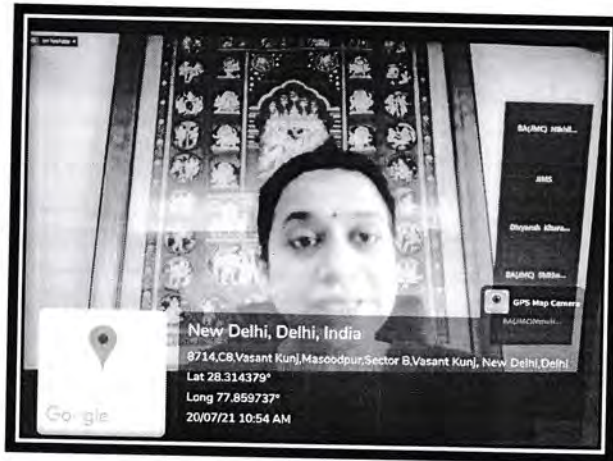

Dr. Panigrahi, began by differentiating the concepts of Gender and Sex. The focus of her address was 'Women in the Workspace'. She traced the journey of women in the workspace from the 60s onwards. She clarified that early on jobs in the workspace for women meant that they would be in role that assisted men do their jobs better.

She mentioned the three concepts central to women in the workspace. They were Human Capital, creating a gender construct

So, for example, Human Capital is intrinsically linked to the demand for dowry and lack of investment in the education of women. She spoke of Parsons Theory that women are good in expressive roles while men are good in economic roles. Hence the roles are divided thus, at home and in the workplace as well. These biases still continue, for example Public Relations roles are said to be more aligned with the disposition of women. Dr. Panigrahi spoke about how gender biases are to be found everywhere and sometimes even our school text books are not exempt from these biases. Dr. Panigrahi enlightened the audience about the beliefs of Rosabeth Moss Kanter, Professor of business at Harvard Business School, who believed that the problem was not that socialization of family but the socialization of the workplace. This would essentially mean that workspaces created and promulgated 'work stereotypes'. She also explained probable work pressures on the minorities in an organization even though inclusive policies were created and subsequently followed.

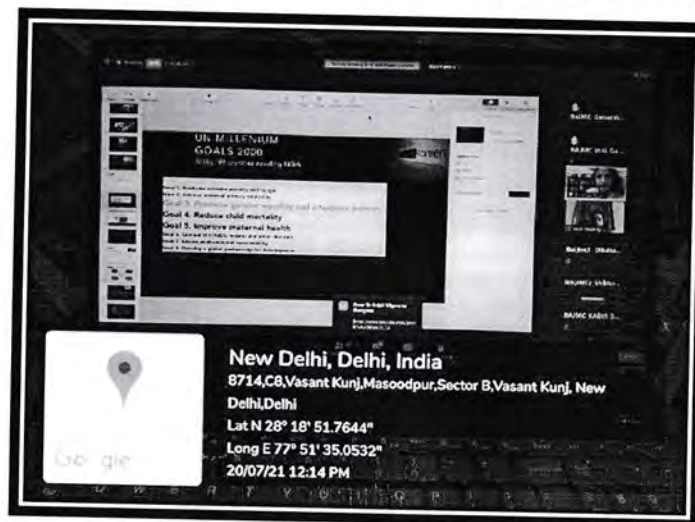

Dr. Panigrahi spoke about sexual harassment and the #MeToo movement. She spoke about the paradigm shift in the 90s with feminists like Joan Acker bringing about critical analysis of existing theories. Dr. Panigrahi clarified that gender bias was a global problem and the western allegedly 'developed' nations were also afflicted. She reiterated Acker's question whether our institutions are sexuality and gender free? In the same vein she mentioned how dress codes are also aligned with the gender constructs. In addition, she touched upon toxic masculinity. She also believes that the law of the land must be commensurate with the reality we exist in. She explained how the work culture affects women in the work space. For ex: after work socializing, which makes women feel disconnected since they might not necessarily be a part of it.

The Q&A session saw Dr. Panigrahi answering questions on sexual harassment of both genders amongst others.

Dr. Anjali Nigam, CEO White Swan Consulting

Dr. Nigam began by tracing the origins of her POSH and Gender studies journey. She regaled the audience with countless real-life examples of her time with corporates and government organizations, of encounters of gender bias and sexual harassment. Dr. Nigam spoke about complementarity of the genders and how one must leverage the strength of one's gender.

Dr. Nigam spoke about complementarity of the genders and how one must leverage the strength of one's gender.

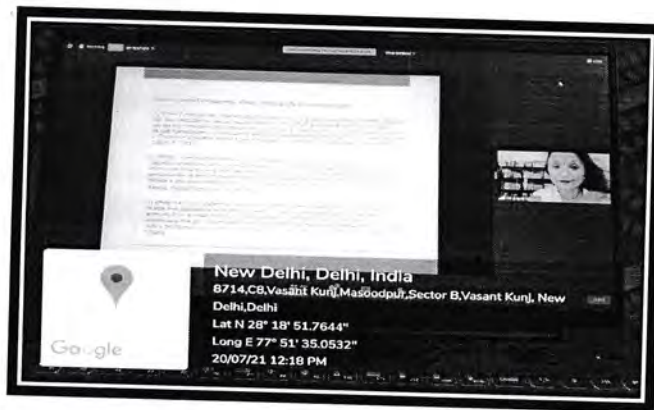

She echoed Dr. Panigrahi's point of view about sexual harassment being a problem for all genders. Dr. Nigam enlightened the audience about the statistics and data regarding sexual harassment in workplaces, quoting a recent report she stated that 75% of women faced retaliation when they complained in the workplace. There is a constant risk to one's career once one complains and that is not to say that women should not raise a complaint. They must. She enlightened the audience about the POSH act and that was promulgated by the government in 2013 for women in the workspace. This made gender sensitization mandatory for all employees (Section 19 C). Dr. Anjali completed the session by answering audience queries about sexual harassment in the workplace.

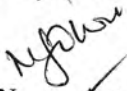

Dr. Neeru Johri thanked the speakers and summed up the learnings of both the sessions. She spoke about the work space i.e. the home. Dr. Johri spoke about how the workspace is sacred and must be respected. She thanked the IC and all departments for their participation and cooperation.

Welcome Address by Dr. Ravi.K. Dhar, Director, JIMS Vasant Kunj

Dr. Ravi. Dhar, Director, Jagannath International Management School in his welcome address shared the importance of gender equality for the holistic growth and development of any society and nation. Women have always been on the edge within the society. He said that this pandemic has shown us the importance and the strength of females in our life as they have managed the entire house along with their professional life. It is vital for all to respect all regardless of their sexuality. He also stressed about the importance of the utilization of words in everyday communication within the context of gender.

The expert for the workshop was Dr. Suman Lal, Max Gurugram spoke on the topic breaking stereotypes in society. The workshop started with introduction by the participants, which was followed by discussion on the concept of gender and differentiation between sex and gender. She said that it is important to understand the concept of stereotypes and how they affect our life. While explaining the concept of stereotypes she gave examples like Asian are good at maths, females are not good with politics, and sports based information. Dr. Lal in her speech said that we all are somehow connected to these stereotypes and unknowingly act according to them, as we would wonder if we see a female cab driver.

Glimpse of participants during the session

She said that for the development of the society it is important that we use our human resource properly and gender parity and breaking stereotypes is the first step to achieve these goals. She further added that breaking of stereotyping could be done at the level of family, society, school, college and all the institutions in a country. She concluded by saying that a gender-equal society would be one where the word gender does not exist: where everyone can be themselves irrespective of their sexual orientation. The session was followed by questions and answers. Dr. Neeru Johri presented vote of thanks.

A one day gender sensitization workshop was organized by internal committee on 10th August 2019 for the faculties and staff of Jagannath International Management School, Vasant Kunj, New Delhi.

Dr. Ravi. Dhar, Director, Jagannath International Management School in his welcome address shared about the importance of gender equality for development of any society and nation.

Women have always been accorded position of equality in the cultural and religious context which over the years has undergone transformation.

Experts with Dr. Ravi K Dhar and Dr. Neeru Johri

In the current scenario there is need to review and have a discourse about how to bring back the honor and respect to women. It is very important for all to respect all irrespective of their sexuality. He also stressed about the importance of use of words in everyday communication in context of gender. The experts for the workshop were Prof. (Dr)Ritu Gupta, National Law Univeristy Dwarka,New Delhi spoke on the topic Legal Framework of The Sexual Harassment (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) of Women at Workplace Act 2013. The second expert was Dr. Anita Rana, In-charge of women cell (Delhi Cantt) New Delhi.

The objective of the workshop was to sensitize the participants on;

- Sexual Harassment (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) of Women at Workplace Act-2013
- Gender equality

Dr. Ritu Gupta

The workshop started with introduction by the participants which was followed by discussion on the concept of gender and differentiation between sex and gender. Prof (Dr)Ritu Gupta shared about the story of Razia Sultan, the first and the last woman emperor during the Delhi Sultanat dynasty and the challenges she faced from the council of ministers, the clergy, the people and most importantly working on breaking of the gender stereotyping based on gender roles. She also spoke on Gender Equality that exists in society on functions performed by men and women. The breaking of stereotyping can be done at the level of family, society, school, college and all the institutions in a country. It is important to give women the chance to express their opinion and be heard and giving them control over their life and future. She also explained about the Sexual Harassment (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) of Women at Workplace Act- 2013. She concluded by saying that a gender-equal society would be one where the word gender does not exist: where everyone can be themselves irrespective of their sexual orientation.

Guest of Honour, Dr. Anita Rana, In-charge of Women Cell (Delhi Cantt) New Delhi, spoke on the topic measures undertaken for safety of women by Delhi Police. She said that gender awareness is very important as it gives understanding about the socially determined differences between women and men based on learned behavior, which affects access and control over resources. She said that there is fear of reporting in women about the harassment they face at workplace due to social stigma and as a result many incidences go reported.

Dr. Anita Rana

Therefore there is need to create an environment where women can without fear report about the harassment they face.

The session was followed by questions and answers. Dr. Neeru Johri presented vote of thanks.

Lt. Col. Rohit Mishra with Dr. Neeru Johri

Dr. Ravi K. Dhar, Director, Jagannath International Management School in his welcome address shared about the importance of self defense training for girls in the present scenario. He said that organizations like Mission Fight Back are working truly for the betterment and empowerment of the society because if women are empowered then only society can develop.

In the current scenario there is need to review and have a discourse about how to bring back the honor and respect to women. It is very important for all to respect all irrespective of their sexuality.

Demonstration of self-defense training

Mission Fight Back is a group of socially conscious individuals who have got together to go beyond couch activism and living room debates to raise and awaken societal awareness amongst Governments, private and public institutions and society as a whole. They represent diverse fields like Armed Forces, Police, Sports and the Media. The collective amalgamation of like-minded individuals led to the formation of ON AIR CONSULTANCY with the idea of starting a social movement aimed at empowering the girl child through a holistic self-defence and self-confidence program. They collaborate with schools and colleges to conduct workshops to empower girls through this training programme.

In his address Lt Col Rohit Mishra, Founder Partner of MIS:ION FIGHT BACK said that, why in 21st century also we need to address this issue of gender sensitization and equality? Why do we call females as weaker sex, we have never heard something like stronger sex so from where we have gathered this word. While explaining the concept of self defence and this training he said that this training module is for all age groups and it can build self confidence in the girls. He said that in this fast growing world where everything is in running pace we need to stop, analyze and understand that until we don't speak for our self no one will. He also added that we fight against hypocrisy, taboo and mindsets.

Participants during the demonstration self-defense training

After the introductory remarks volunteers from the organization gave demo to students who also participated in the process. They involved girls in these techniques of self defense which were easy to adapt and incorporate. The participants also presented their skills to the trainers and they also said that the whole process of learning these skills is simple and easy. The workshop was concluded with vote of thanks by Adv. Jasmeet Bajaj Member IC.

Report of Workshop on Gender sensitization at Workplace & SHW Act 2013

Internal complaints committee, JIMS Vasant Kunj organized a training programme on anti-Sexual harassment of women at workplace & SHW Act 2013 on 24th December, 2018 for the faculties and staff. The objective of the training was to familiarize and sensitize the faculties and staff regarding Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (prevention, prohibition and Redressal) Act 2013. The training programme started with the welcome address by Dr Ravi K Dhar, Director, JIMS Vasant Kunj. He said that just as striking balance between nature and mankind is important, similarly a balance and harmony between male and female is also important.

The chief guest, Dr. L.R. Agarwal, chairman, Aggarwal Law Foundation is a legal expert on ISTM (Institute Secretariat Training and Management / Dept. of Personal and Training) committee to develop training modules and curriculum for prevention, prohibition and redressal, sexual harassment complaint act 2013. He is the only expert for this subject in the faculty panel of ISTM.

Dr. Aggarwal discussed the relevance of equality before law with reference to Article 14 in the Indian Constitution which speaks of equality before law but equality is meaningful only among the equals. Women and Children still face lot of discrimination and are vulnerable to exploitation in our society. Therefore positive intervention in favour of women and children is very important to bring equality in society through law. He said that despite of having 46 legislations for women after independence, a lot has to be achieved regarding equality in status of women. He discussed in detail the definitions of "workplace and employer" as per the act. He gave examples of what all clauses included in the act in detail.

Dr. Aggarwal gave an insight on the historical developments, legislative journey, and main features of the act. He also explained about the definitions of 'workplace and employer' as per the act, penal provisions against the employer and the compliant mechanism. Dr. Aagarwal also explained about the importance of having an Internal Complaint Committee for all organizations/employers, its structure, powers, procedures for filling a complaint and its time limit, provisions for conciliation, principle of natural justice, period of enquiry and action, and mechanism for dealing with false/malicious complaints. He also stressed on the need for initiatives like organizing awareness and training programmes to monitor progress for strengthening the compliance under the act. Dr. Aagarwal also shared many high profile cases under the Act.

He also discussed about the POSCO Act 2012 and how important it is from perspective of educational institutes and schools to have good understanding of the same. POSCO act covers all the children below 18 years of age who face sexual harassment at workplace, home, school, college or any other places. He discussed about definitions of dignity of child under the act, violations and punishments in case of proven guilty.

The presentation followed with question/answer session. The training programme concluded with vote of thanks by Dr Neeru Johri, Presiding Officer, Internal Complaints Committee and Head, Department of Communication Studies.

Gender Sensitization Training

A one-day Gender Sensitization Training was organized by POSH of Jagannath International Management School, Vasant Kunj, New Delhi, on 21 December 2016 as discussed in the last meeting.

All faculties from the three Departments-BBA, BCA, and BJ (MC) participated in the workshop. The objective of this training workshop was to sensitize participants on the concepts like gender and sex and parameters of gender equality.

Dr. Ravi K. Dhar, Director, Jagannath International Management School in his welcome address shared about the importance of gender sensitization in the professional environment. He said that it should be a regular practice to organize such training workshops. Dr. Neeru Johri, Head Department of Communication studies facilitated the workshop. The workshop started with the introduction of the participants where they were asked to list down the strengths of women and men based on their perception. Thereafter in the next exercise participants were asked to share the picture or idea that comes to their mind when they hear the word 'gender'. Dr. Johri gave an overview on how patriarchal norms are deep-rooted in Indian society and have relegated women to secondary status within the household and workplace. Gender discrimination affects women both socially and politically. Women are commonly married young, become mothers, and are then burdened by stringent domestic and financial responsibilities.

Dr. Neeru Johri

They are frequently malnourished since women typically are the last member of a household to eat and the last to receive medical attention. Women receive little schooling and also their numbers are not high in higher education. They also suffer from unfair and biased inheritance and divorce laws. These laws prevent women from accumulating substantial financial assets, making it difficult for women to establish their own security and autonomy. She stressed on the need for a change of mindset of society towards women. The workshop sensitized the participants on the differentiation between 'gender' and 'sex'. Gender is used to describe those characteristics of men and women which are socially determined, in contrast to those which are biologically determined. People are born female or male, but learn to be girls and boys who grow into women and men. They are taught what the appropriate behavior and attitudes, roles, and activities are spelled out for them by society. This learned behavior is what makes up gender identity, and determines gender roles and responsibilities. Gender is a dynamic concept and gender roles vary greatly from one culture to another and from one social, political, and economic group to another within the same culture. The workshop ended with views and opinions from the participants.
